

Gold Feline Essential

To help your kitten enjoy a happy, healthy life,
this preventive care visit includes the following:

Chemistry profile and complete blood count (CBC)

A baseline blood chemistry profile, including SDMA, provides information about your puppy's kidneys, liver, and pancreas, as well as other functions of the body, such as blood sugar and hydration. A CBC can identify infection, inflammation, and anemia.

Infectious disease screening

This screening indicates whether your cat has been infected with feline leukemia virus (FeLV) and feline immunodeficiency virus (FIV)—the most common infectious diseases in cats. It also indicates exposure to heartworm.

Fecal test

This test checks for intestinal parasites that may live in your cat's gastrointestinal tract. Since they are usually hidden from view, the only way to detect and identify most intestinal parasites is by doing a fecal test.

Radiographs

Preventive radiography imaging exams are designed to detect cancer and noncancerous health conditions in their early stages, when diseases are more treatable and curable.

Blood Pressure

Your pet can suffer from hypertension (high blood pressure) just like a human can.
